Notice.

The public are hereby informed that a Company has been formed under the title of THE QUANTICO WAREHOUSE COMPANY. who have erected, one mile below the town of Dumfries, a large and convenient Warehouse on Quantico creek, for the storage of flour, grain, etc. which warehouse will be ready for the reception of produce on Monday the third of Feb. next. The trustees of said Company have appointed Zebulon Kankey their Agent, to attend the said Warehouse, to receive produce on storage and grant receipts for the same. And for the prompt delivery of all articles received in the said warehouse by their agent, (fire alone excepted) the Company hold themselves bound. All persons depositing flour, grain, etc. must pay, before taken away, the following storage, viz: For each barrel of flour 6 cents; if it remains in said warehouse one month 8 cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. For each bushel of wheat or other grain two cents; if it remains over one month three cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. And for all articles of merchandise a reasonable storage only will be demanded. Persons storing flour may have it inspected, or not, at their option. If not inspected, the agent's receipt will specify the brand and the state of the barrels. The weight of one bushel wheat, running measure of each load or parcel of wheat. All articles stored, the same to be returned to the owner when called for, be it flour, wheat, other grain, etc. Customary allowances for wastage, etc. excepted.

Quantico Warehouse is situated on Quantico Creek, only two miles from its junction with the Potomac river, at all times navigable for lighters. There are belonging to this creek a sufficient number of lighters to ensure a brisk transportation down the creek of all articles stored. Vessels may be got to take produce to the district of Columbia, Baltimore, Norfolk, or elsewhere. The present freights are—To the district twelve and half cents per barrel of flour, and to Baltimore and Norfolk 25 cents from the mouth of Quantico. The proximity of this warehouse to a large extent of country, added to the goodness of roads leading to it from the westward, being little inferior to paved ones. It being found by actual survey little more than 25 miles from Hay Market to Dumfries will, it is confidently believed by the trustees, by this route greatly lessen the expense of transportation of produce even to the district of Columbia, and they pledge themselves to the public to use every means within their power to give satisfaction.

Jan. 23

From the Buffalo Gazette of Jan. 14

What object of a secular nature can reflect more pleasing sensations on the mind than a contemplation of the growth and prosperity of the country that gave us birth? When we turn our mind to the Great Western Canal, in what ratio shall we compute the future growth and prosperity of the western section of our country, should this grand object be effected, on a plan calculated to reduce the price of exportations, so that heavy articles of produce would bear transportation from the western Lakes to New York? Then should we see the frontier countries on the Lakes, Erie, St. Clair, Huron, Michigan and Superior, floating their richest produce into the great emporium of their country. What internal improvement can surpass the one now in contemplation? The country generally have but a faint view of the magnitude of this object: They do not consider that it will meet navigable waters equal to a canal 3916 miles in length or upwards. But to prove this it will be necessary to show the circumference of the lakes and length of the rivers that connect them. This is not accurately known, but according to the best calculation,

The circumference of Lake Erie is 509 miles
the length of Detroit River 28 the circumference of Lake St. Clair 90 the length of St. Clair River 28
the circumference of Lake Huron 1000 the length of St. Mary's River 40
the circumference of Lake Superior 1500
the circumference of Lake Michigan 940
8916

This calculation being accurate, we find a frontier country, bordering on navigable waters, a distance of 8916 miles, intercepted only by a portage of nine miles between Lake Huron and Superior, a great portion of which country is of a superior quality for cultivation. Were this chain of water communication extended to Hudson river, then would the two divisions of Columbia have scope for their unrivalled spirit of enterprise and industry. Nor would the wonder stop here, the southern nor middle states would no more be a continent, but converted into islands. A channel would be cut from Green Bay and Lake Michigan to Winnebago Lake, from thence through Fox and Ouisconsin Rivers to Mississippi River, or from Michigan through Chicago and Illinois River to the Mississippi. From the west comes the Missouri River and to be navigable one thousand three hundred miles. What fields for enterprise—What wealth would be floated down these channels. From Ohio and Michigan, the produce of the field; from Lakes Michigan and Superior, fish, copper and peltry; from Illinois and Missouri, coal, lead, salt, buffalo robes and peltry. To the extent of this body and the natural limbs, numerous river which empty into the great lakes, some of which are navigable many miles; could not volumes be written on the propriety of this great work. Fellow citizens, would not this communication between Hudson and Lake Erie, afford to the United States more ample means of promoting every social interest, than have hitherto in any country been accomplished by any human enterprise? Be excited then in the great work. Let the general government be interested and appropriate some of the lands bordering on these waters. Let the state of New York press forward the work—the state of Ohio and territory of Michigan assist the enterprise; and all with heart and hand accomplish the work in a manner calculated to reduce the price of transportation, so that heavy articles of produce will bear transportation, from the Lakes to New York and New Orleans.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

February, 1.

The congressional business of yesterday having run into this day so as to render a division between not desirable, I left you without a letter on the former, in hopes that I should be able in this to announce to you the conclusive decision upon that body of navigation law which has been laid before the house of representatives by the committee of foreign relations—and now I am not sure that it would not be better to postpone my information for another day, though one of that batch of bills has gone through every stage but that of engrossing and passing, the others I'm in a kind of trance from which it is doubtful whether they will ever be aired.

THE FIRST of those measures was "a bill to prohibit the importation of merchandise from any foreign port, except in vessels of the United States, or in vessels owned by the subjects of the country of which the articles imported are the growth." This bill went through a committee of the whole on Wednesday last.

THE SECOND was a bill to prohibit all commercial intercourse with ports or places into which the vessels of the United States are not ordinarily permitted to enter and trade. This was avowedly a coercive measure to compel Great Britain to permit our vessels to enter her colonial ports in the West Indies, or to forego the advantage to her colonists of being supplied with our lumber, live stock, &c. &c.

But as it was foreseen that this would be thought by the house too hazardous an experiment, Mr. Forsyth, the chairman of the committee of foreign relations, was prepared with some sections, which by way of amendment, were to come in as a substitute for that act if it should be found unpalatable. Just as a ship is said to be built on the keel of another old cast one, when in fact it has nothing belonging to it but the name. And this substitute I consider as the third of those measures.

The second bill was opposed by gentlemen on both sides, for of party feelings there were none, and Mr. J. moved this day in the committee, to strike out the first section—on which motion he was not so much opposed, as remonstrated with by the Speaker who expressed a hope that the committee would not by destroying the bill in that manner decide against congress acting upon that momentous concern, and proclaim to Great Britain that they were willing to acquiesce under the grievances of her colonial and navigation laws—he therefore entreated gen. Jackson to postpone his motion, and let the committee report the bill.

Mr. Jackson consented; observing however that the British would understand the thing as well from an indefinite postponement, as from the striking out of the clause in the committee.

The second bill, and Mr. Forsyth's substitute (the third) being thus disposed of for the present. The consideration of the first which lay over from Wednesday was resumed by the committee for the purpose of receiving an amendment offered by Mr. Lowndes, regulating the proportion of foreign seamen to citizens to be allowed on board the vessels of the United States, which amendment was adopted.

The committee then rose, and reported progress, and the first bill was ordered, as I have told you, to be engrossed and read a third time on Wednesday. Mr. Lowndes's amendment which provides that three fourths of the seamen employed in fishing vessels shall be American citizens was canvassed very laboriously. Mr.

Mr. Lowndes's amendment which provides that three fourths of the seamen employed in fishing vessels shall be American citizens was canvassed very laboriously. Mr.

Forsyth wanted to have the whole crews citizens. Out of this question arose some recollections and consequent symptoms of sparring on the subject of impressment, but like Shakespeare's idea respecting the elementary lightning, "which doth cease to be ere one can say it lightens," it soon dropt and the bill amended was read section by section & agreed to.

The following note upon col. Tallmadge's disclosure of the circumstances accompanying the capture of Andre, is from the Boston Centinel.

It appears extraordinary, that in an assembly of 150 American legislators, there should be only one who was acquainted with events which were well known to the whole American army at the time they occurred. The writer of this note was then of that army, and has a perfect recollection that the following were deemed facts respecting the capture of Major Andre.

1st. That he was detained at Sissing, by three persons who belonged to a body of men vulgarly denominated "Cowboys," who as militia men interested the country between the outposts of the two armies—who did not acknowledge obedience to either; but who were considered as enemies of and in the habit of making depredations on both.

2d. That it was universally understood that when Andre was taken, his captors negotiated with him respecting his permission to proceed, and that they found he would be worth more to them if surrendered to the American outposts than if permitted to return to New York.

3d. That the army properly appreciated the policy which dictated the distinguished notice their great commander and Congress took of these citizens, and acquiesced in the pensions and plaudits bestowed upon them.

That these facts were not publicly divulged is not the only evidence of magnanimity and patriotism of the army of the revolution.

Some doubts having been suggested in congress of the correctness of the information given by Colonel Tallmadge, we have deemed it our duty to add to the above humble corroboration; but which will be deemed quite unnecessary by all who have perused the history of the revolutionary war, and have had an acquaintance with the character and services of the colonel. An accidental circumstance having placed the writer under the colonel's command at the time, he can attest to the opportunity which he (the colonel) had to obtain the most accurate information of events as they occurred.

It is our duty to add, that the army estimated the service rendered to the country by Mr. Paulding and his companions; and it is well known that these gentlemen have long sustained irreproachable characters. We most sincerely lament that the subject has been introduced into congress; and hope the consciousness of having been instruments of saving their country will give them every consolation in their declining age.

Massachusetts Hospital.—The subscriptions for the establishment of a general and insane hospital, are proceeding in Boston and the adjacent towns, with unexampled liberality. According to the report of the committee who have charge of the business, the subscriptions in the town of Boston alone amounted on Monday last, to One Hundred and twelve thousand Dollars! in the small town of Roxbury, more than eighteen hundred dollars are already subscribed, and more than Nine thousand in the town of Salem.

Two gentlemen in Salem subscribed each two thousand dollars, and two others each one thousand?

Gen. Armstrong's Privateer.—The Washington Weekly Gazette, remarking on the claim for indemnity, and the Report of the committee of the Senate on the petition of the owners, observes,

"The report is unfavorable to the prayer of the petitioners, and the reasons set forth are just and conclusive. There is no fixed principle of law or equity under which the United States can be called upon to make good a loss sustained under the circumstances of the present case. In the attack and destruction of the General Armstrong a flagrant violation of the neutrality of a port was committed, and the law of nations and usages of civilized powers unite in pointing out the correct and acknowledged course in obtaining indemnification; and, from the peculiar circumstances of this transaction, there is no doubt but the Portuguese government will, on prompt representation, make good all the loss sustained on this occasion, and although a subject proper to be debated upon, we feel no doubt that the British government will also reimburse the Portuguese government for the assumption of this claim, brought on by the imprudent zeal and culpable conduct of her officers. It is, then, that the government of the United States, that the owners of the Gen. Armstrong must seek redress from Portugal, and there can be little hesitation in declaring that no efforts will be wanting to command justice.

"The committee of the Senate would not permit themselves to report without paying a just tribute to the gallant Capt. Reed and his little crew, in repelling an attack made under such discouraging circumstances. It can never cease to be an object of astonishment and just pride to the nation; and the more that defence and its awful effects are examined, the more securely we may rely on the skill and bravery of our seamen. Captain Reed, we understand, is not interested in the Gen. Armstrong, nor does he petition for indemnification or relief; he has, however, no less claims on the liberal consideration of his country.

From the Dedan Gazette, THE GREAT SNOW—1717.

As this year completes a century since the great snow, so often mentioned by aged people, & which ranks among the memorable events in the history of New England, a few particulars respecting that snow, as related in a public newspaper at that period, may gratify curiosity.

The Boston News Letter of February 25, 1717 has the following paragraph:—Besides several snows, we had a great one on Monday the 17th current; and on Wednesday the 20th it began to snow about noon, and continued snowing Friday the 25, so that the snow lay on some parts of the streets about six feet high. Saturday last was a clear business day, not a cloud to be seen till towards evening. And the Lord's day the 24 a deep snow. The extremity of the weather has hindered all the three Posts from coming in; neither can they be expected, till the roads now impassable with a mighty snow on the ground are beaten. The News Letter, of March the 4th, has this paragraph:—Boston; February ended with snow, and March begins with it—the snow so deep, that there is no travelling."

Land for Sale

A tract or parcel of Land, containing between two and three hundred acres, on the north side of Occoquan, in Fairfax county, about 5 miles west of Occoquan mills. It is well watered with never failing springs, it is also well timbered, and the great quantity of fur timber on it renders it the more valuable to any person in the cooperating line. This land is of the middle soil, and produces corn, wheat or any other grain tolerable well—there is about 100 acres cleared and under good fence. The improvements are a dwelling house & other out houses, and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

ALSO,

One other tract in the same county, within three miles of Occoquan, lying on Sandy Run, containing 47 acres—one half in cultivation and under good fence, the remainder heavily timbered. There are on the premises an old framed dwelling house and out houses and an apple orchard of eighty bearing trees.

Any person inclining to purchase can view the premises and know the terms by applying to the subscriber who lives near them.

Two Runaway Boys.

Ran away, on the 8th December 1816, from the Clifton Factory, in St. Mary's county, Maryland, two apprentice boys, named each about 17 or 18 years old. Allen has a round face, small hands and feet, stoops forward when walking, speaks slow, and is small for his age—he has a mother living in Alexandria by the name of Downs, whose husband, Bernard Downs, is a waterman. Hilton, also speaks slow and smiling, lifts his feet high and stoops when walking, has large feet and remarkable long great toes; he has a grand other living near Chapinco, St. Mary's County, Maryland, who is the only relative he has living. Their clothing is country made, unless changed for deception.

James Allen & Wm. Hilton.

All masters of vessels and other persons are hereby warned not to harbor or employ said apprentices at their peril.

Hilton has always had a desire to follow the water, therefore will probably be idling about the docks of the town.

They have gone off without the least provocation or offence either on their part or on the part of the Company to whom they are bound to learn the manufacturing business.

Ten Dollars for each, or either, will be paid by us, to any person who will take up and secure these boys so that we get them again, and if brought home all reasonable charges paid by

TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS.

Extract from the Militia Law of the District of Columbia.

Sec. 28. And be it further enacted, That the respective courts of enquiry shall have power to cause to be bound for a term of years, to the several commands of companies, battalions, and legions and their successors in office, as the case may require, such number of boys and young men, with the consent of their parent, or other person authorized, as they in their discretion may think proper, for the purpose of being instructed in the different branches of military music and of serving as musicians when they may be competent thereto to the several companies, battalions and legions; and the father of any youth who may be bound, otherwise subject to be enrolled, shall be exempt from all duty in the militia so long as his son so bound may continue to serve in the corps to which he would otherwise belong, as well during his apprenticeship as thereafter: and the several legions courts of enquiry shall make provision from time to time for the clothing, maintenance, and the properly instructing all such youths, to be paid from the fund arising from the fines imposed by this act; and the commanding officers of legions, shall cause the drummers and fiddlers and other musicians of their respective legions, to meet at the same times and places that commissioned officers are required to meet, for the purpose of being trained by the brigade inspector, or other officer, there to be instructed in their respective branches of music for which purpose the commanding officer of the legion may employ such person or persons as he may think proper and capable to instruct such drummers and fiddlers, and other musicians.

Spanish Consulate.

The port of Vera Cruz being now open to the importation of every species of provisions in every class of vessels belonging to powers or states friendly or neutral, as officially communicated to me by his excellency the governor of this place, under date 23d October ultimo I have the satisfaction to announce to this public said permission, with a view that it may also reach the knowledge of merchants in other states. The conditions on which the above commerce is admissible are as follow:

That, without any alteration in the duties which have been paid on the introduction of other provisions hitherto, the article of flour is subject to that of forty one reales (5 dollars 12 and half cents) silver money: & that its duration is for the space of six months, which not withstanding will continue six months after the declaration of the suspension of the said foreign traffic.

JOAQUIN ZAMORANO.

Alexandria, 19th January, 1817.

ROBBERY.

On the night of the 6th of December, 1816, the Exchange Office of the subscriber, Bridge street, Georgetown, from appearances by a false key, was robbed of the following property, in specie, consisting of dollars, change, American and English gold, about 200 dollars; bank notes, mostly three dollar notes of the bank of Washington, and some small tickets, together about 30 dollars, a one pound note of the bank of England, and one hundred and sixty four lottery tickets as per numbers below. The lottery tickets can be of no use to the persons taking them, and an attempt to pass them would only lead to a detection, it is therefore hoped that the person or persons who took them, will return them to the subscriber through the Post Office at Georgetown. A liberal Reward will be paid by the subscriber for any information that may lead to the discovery of the persons or a recovery of the property. All keepers of lottery offices in the United States will please to keep a list of the numbers of the following tickets, as it may lead to a discovery of the theft.
